

The website for whisky lovers

WHISKYLOGY.COM

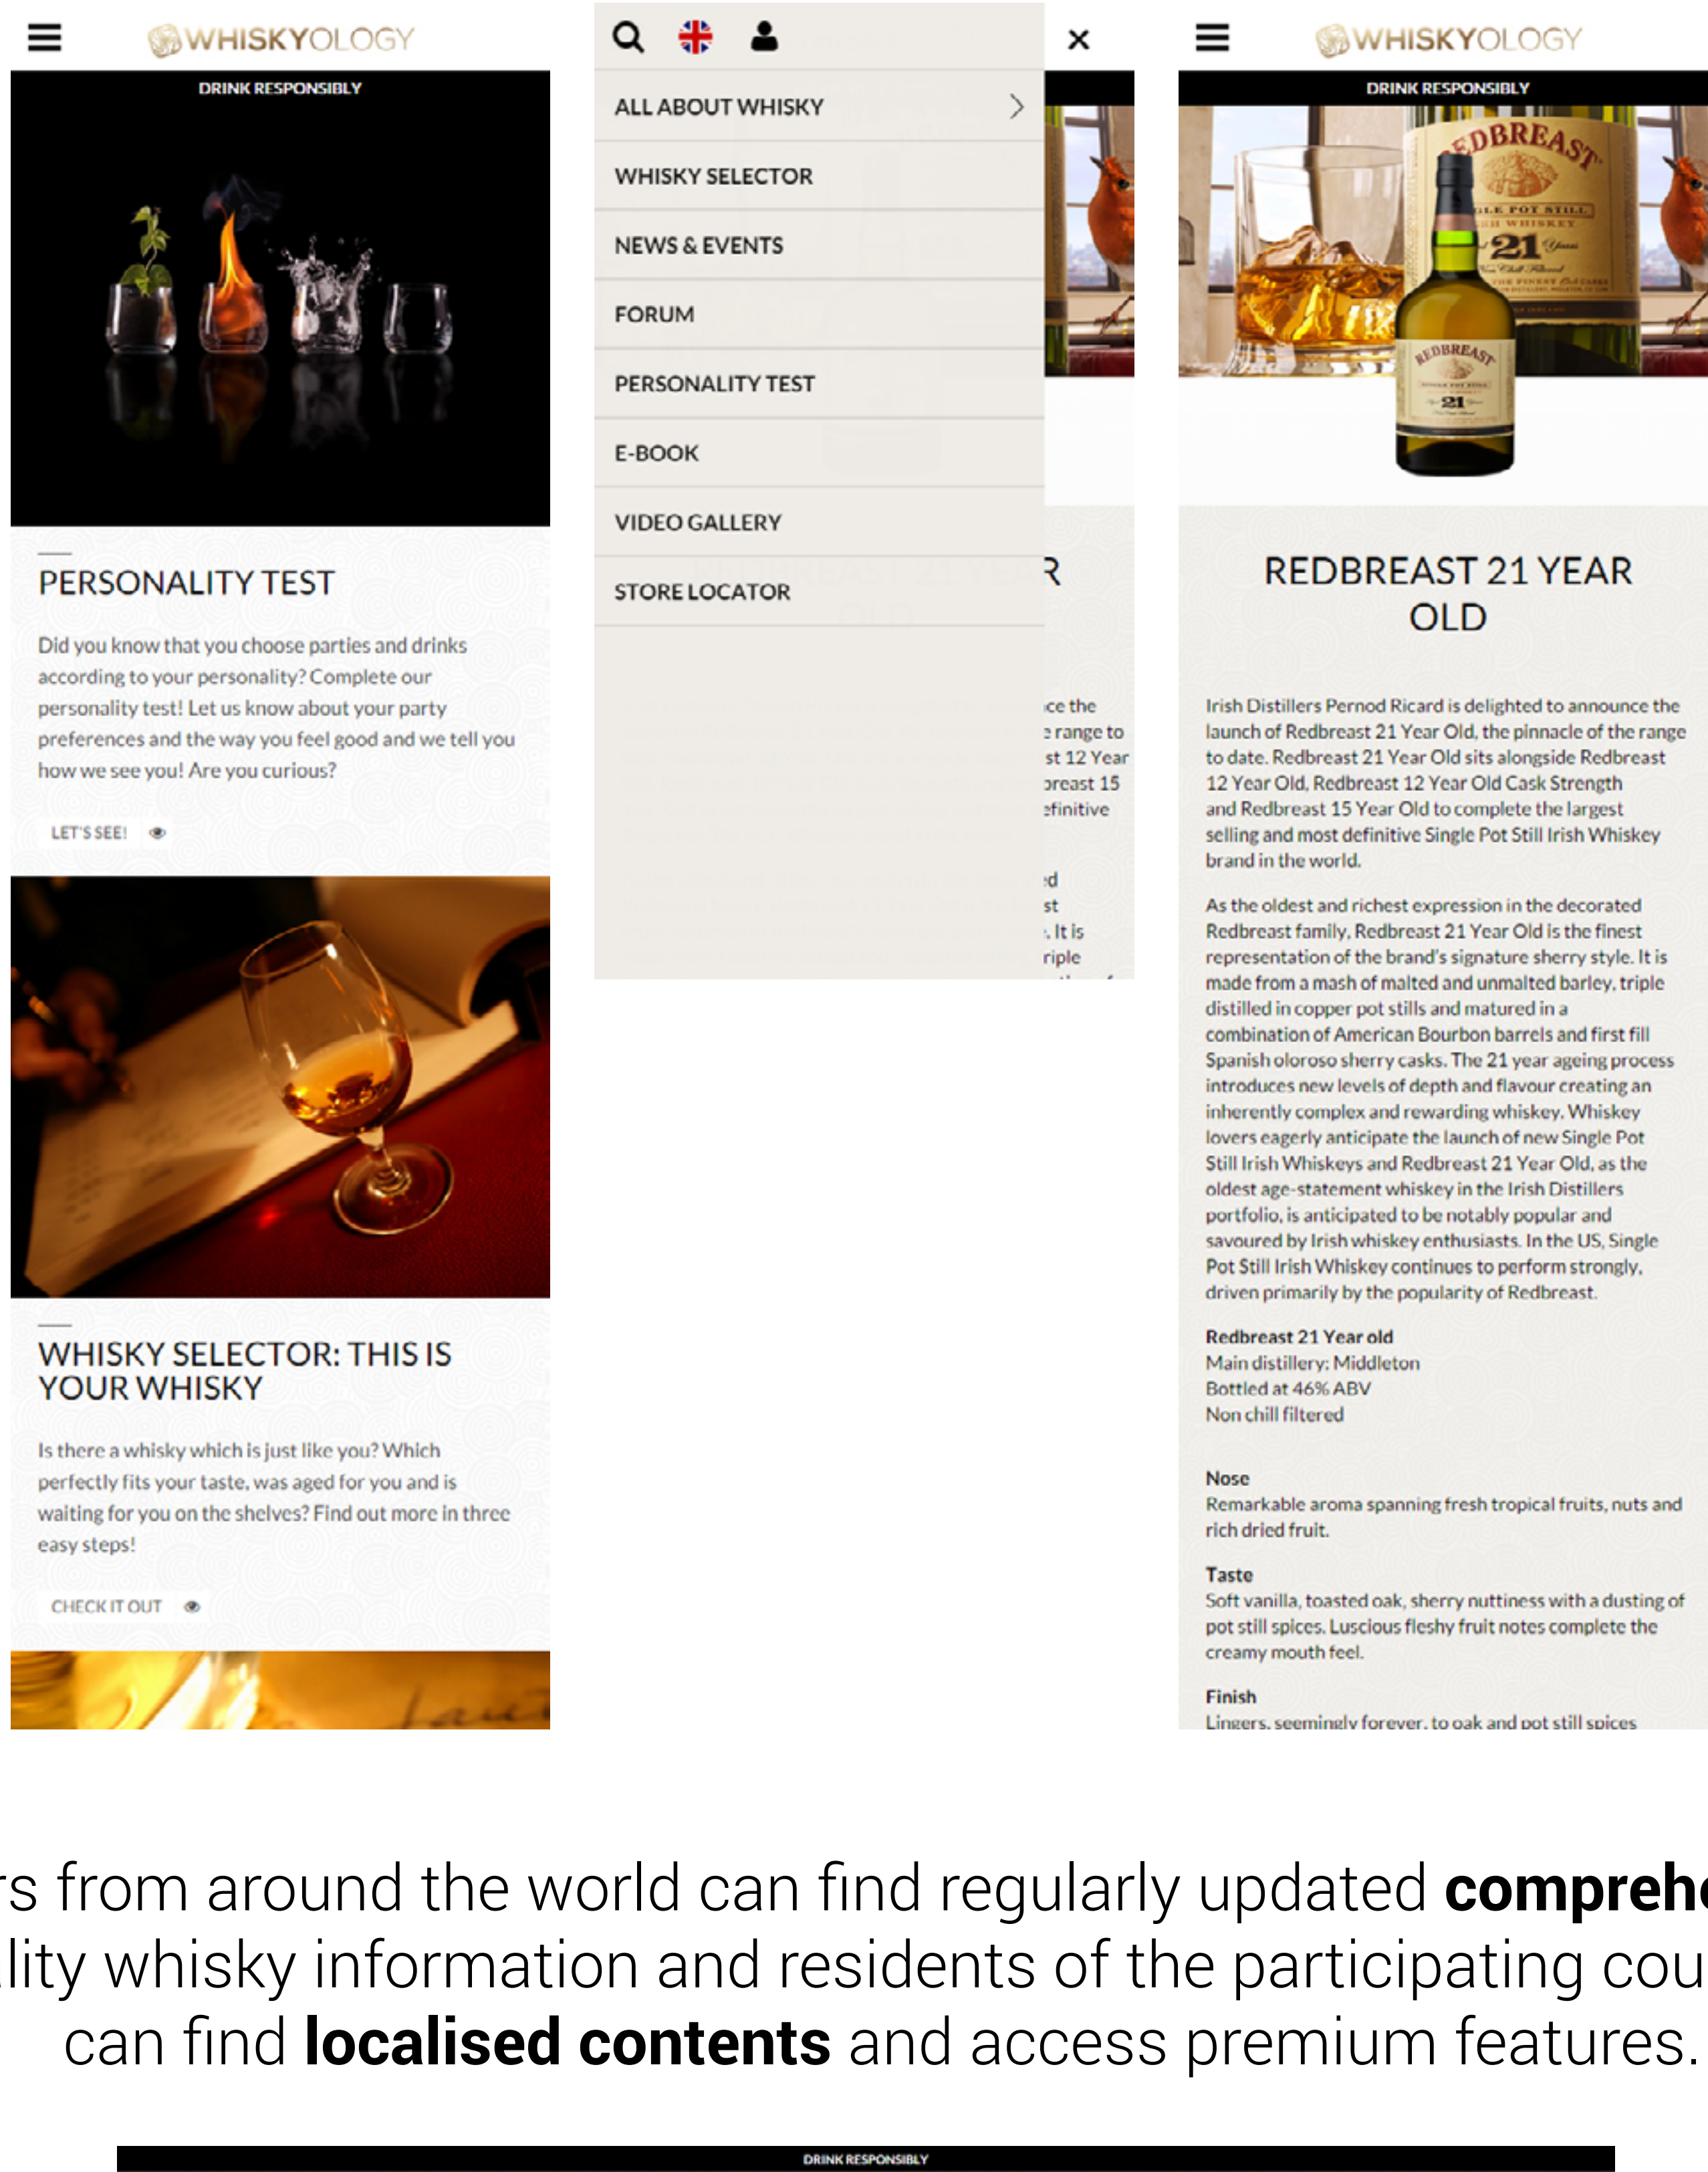

Please click for the embedded video.

Our mission was to create the number one web reference for whisky lovers.

Whiskyology.com is a responsive website with premium design and offers high quality content and premium features for its registered members.

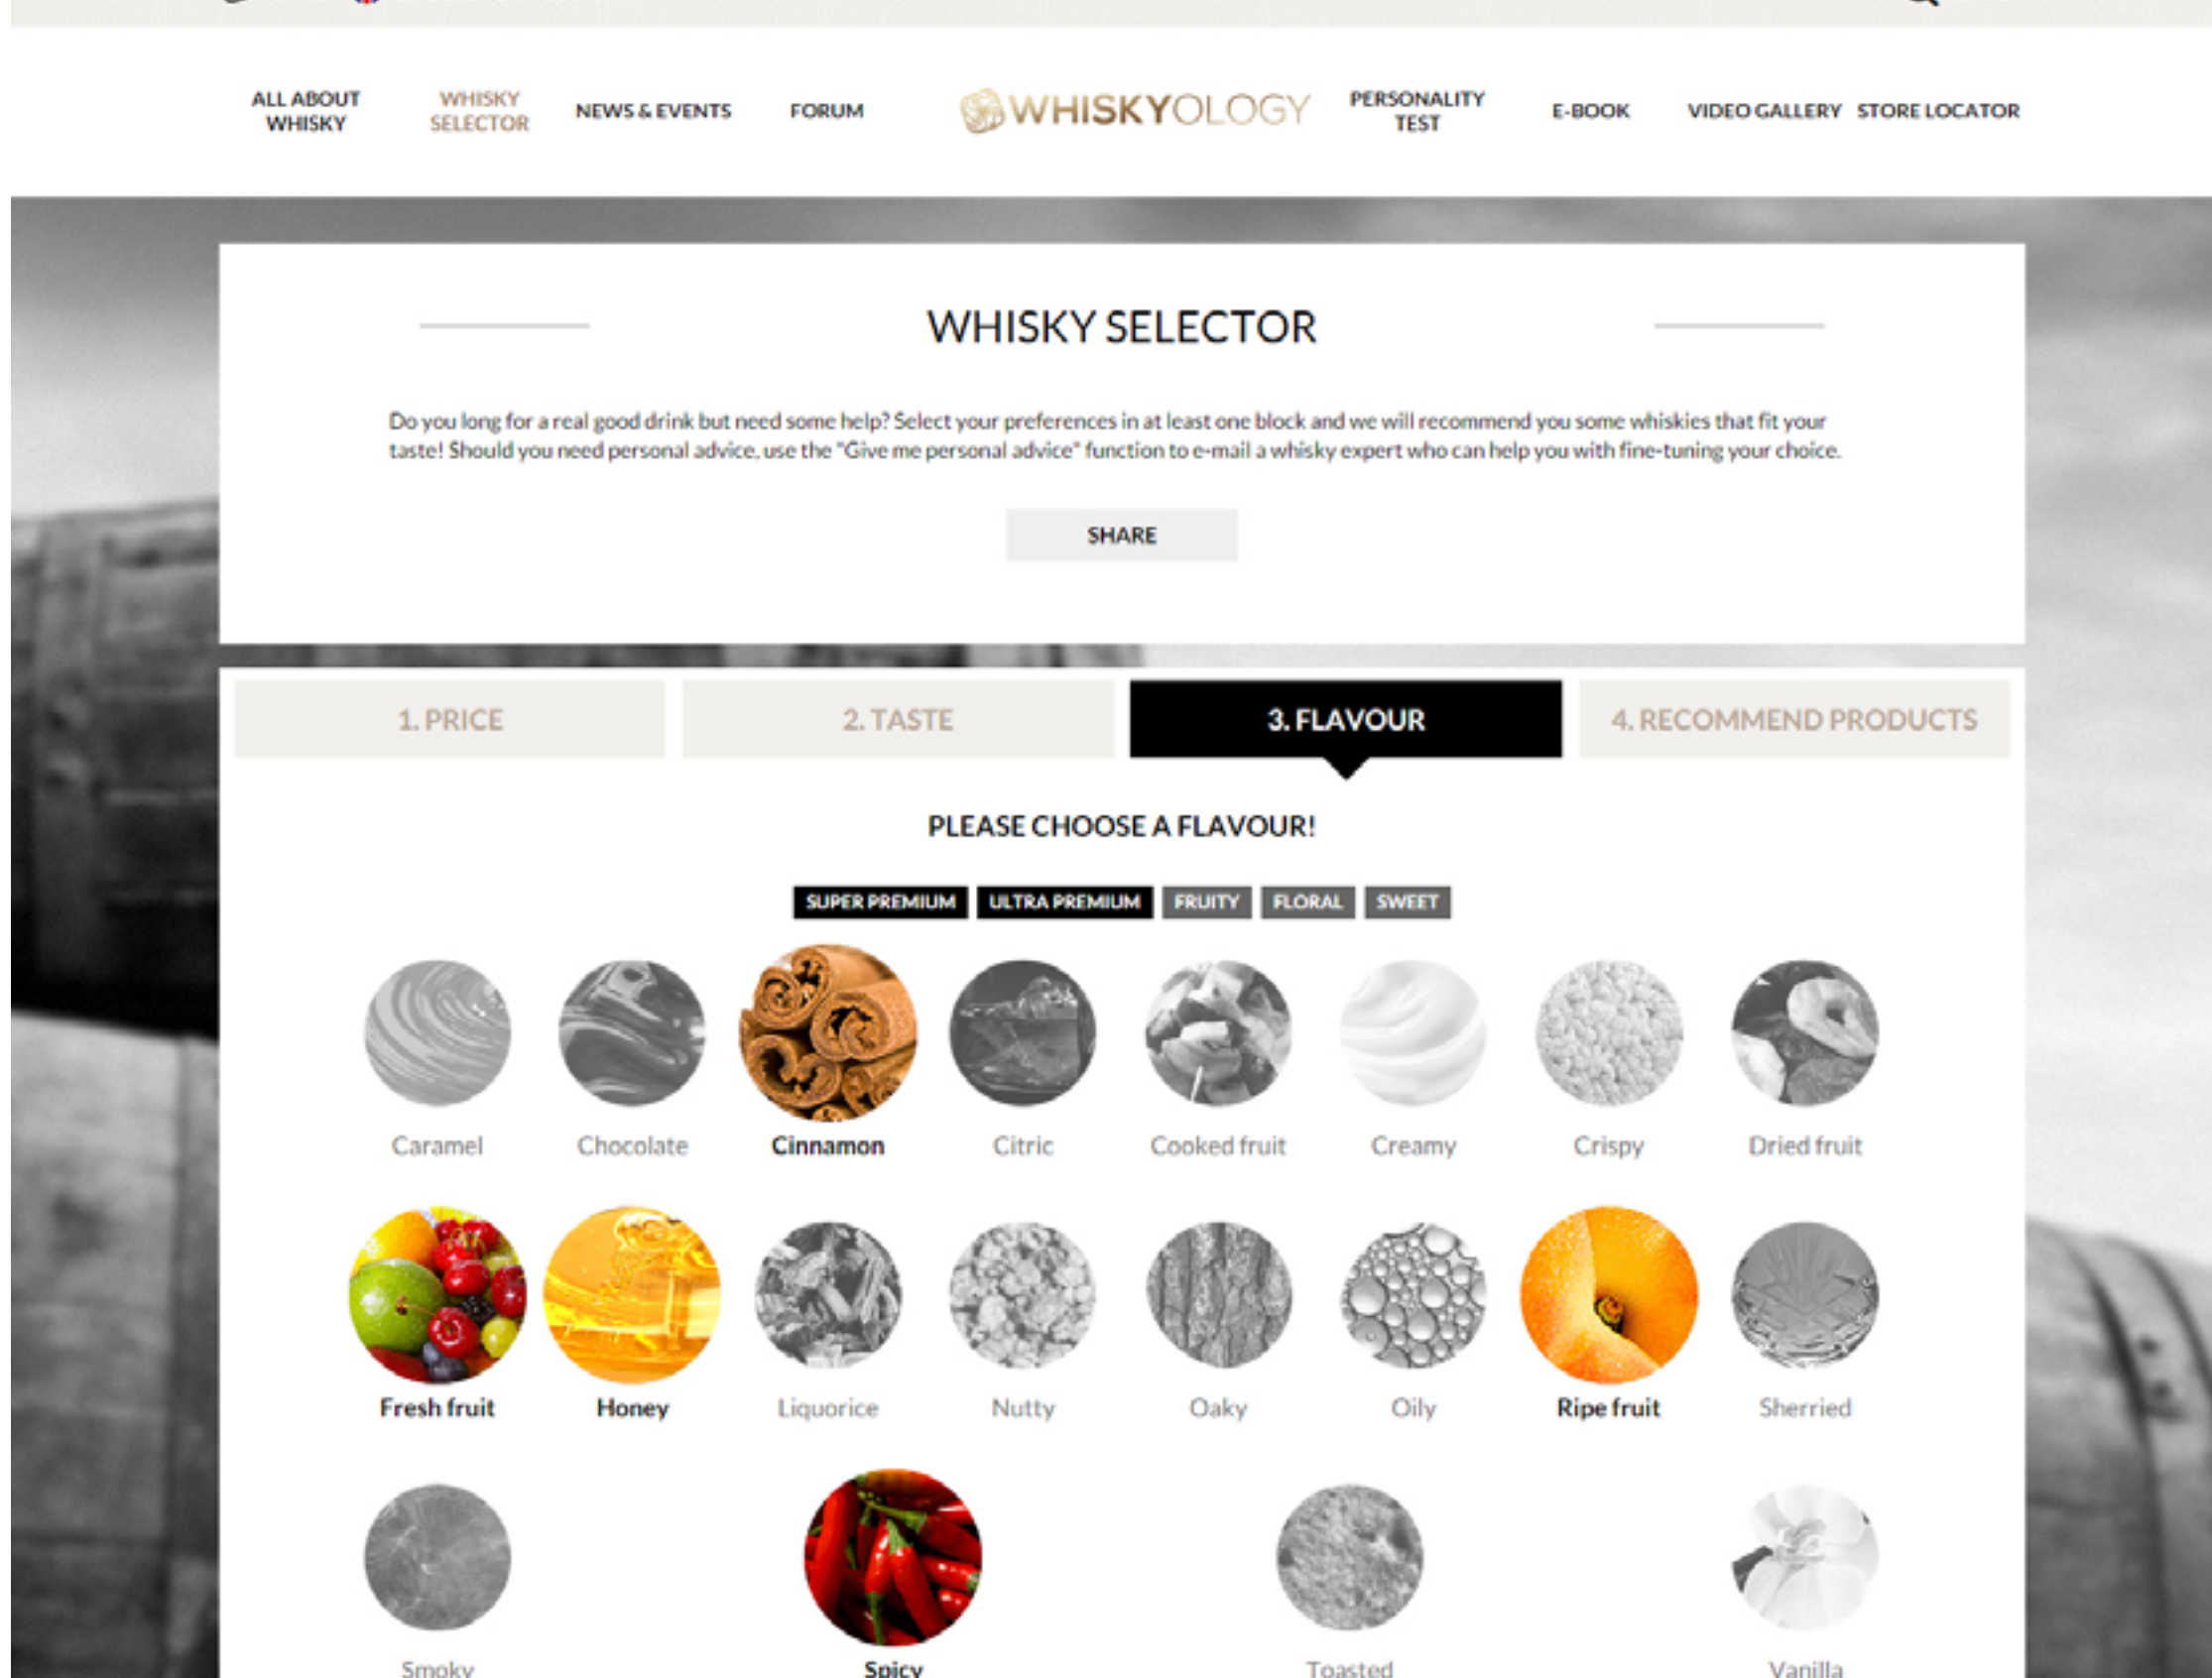

Visitors from around the world can find regularly updated comprehensive, quality whisky information and residents of the participating countries can find localised contents and access premium features.

But Whiskyology is more than a website, it is also a community for whisky enthusiasts, already available in 8 countries, and this number is constantly expanding.

You will surely find something new whether you are a professional or just an admirer looking for some educational content.
